June 2008

Fairview-Jeff Davis's 200th Birthday

Great turnout by the 4th Kentucky, 15 troopers. Unfortunately, the Kentucky State Parks didn't throw a very big party for Jeff Davis. There were no scheduled activities for reenactors. We were not a part of the program, they charged us $6.00 to register and provided nothing in return. We had to find our own water, no straw, and a little fire wood. They even charged us to go into the museum and ride the elevator to the top of the monument.

On a plus note- we had 2 days of great drill. We drilled early in the morning before it got too hot. We got to hear some great speeches, but as far as I'm concerned, that's the last trip to Fairview for me.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEKEND

- Seeing George's horse was still there.
- William C. Davis's speech
- Alex's popcorn
- That's all folks!

Next Event...On to Gettysburg!

June 26-30th

Gettysburg: High Tide
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
www.wmhf.org/athightide

Uniform: Confederate

Tents: Campaign Camp, shelter half or shebang

Food: On your own, prepare to eat out of your haversack for the weekend.

Ammo: 120 rounds

Fees: Already paid

Other items: Most everyone is going to leave Thursday night after work & drive partways, to arrive Friday afternoon at the site. No coolers. Be prepared to carry everything in on your back. Probably won't see the car until the event is over with. There will be sutlers & food vendors at the reenactment site. We will be consolidating with another company. We will also be having guard mounts & possibly sleeping on arms Saturday night.

Your Obedient Servant,

C.H. Johnston

C.H. Johnston Captain

Meeting Notes: We approved buying a frock coat for the loaner program.
